Best Day of My Life So Far (NonProfit)

Ambassador (January 2019 – present)

- Best Day is a non-profit organization designed to increase intergenerational communication and decrease older adult loneliness. My classes integrate story-collecting from older adults as a way to integrate family communication, lifespan communication, communication skills of listening and narrating, and family histories.

Hold the Door for Others (NonProfit)

Growth Consultant (Fall 2014 – present)

- Hold the Door for Others is a non-profit organization developed after the attacks on 9/11 to help individuals grow through loss. Each year, there is a fundraising walk and a Hold the Door day where individuals can come and use narrative to process through loss, or find resources to help loved ones process through loss. I have volunteered in various forms at these events, most recently leading their “Helper Program” at the Hold the Door Day.

Johnson County’s Livable Community Initiative (JCLC):

Communication Subgroup Member (2009 – 2012, Iowa City)

- JCLC evolved from a grassroots initiative designed to create a community accessible to aging adults. Currently, the focus is on successful aging and the creation of resources to allow people of all ages and conditions to engage actively within their community. I served as a University of Iowa representative and assisted on various projects designed to market the group to the Johnson County area. In addition, my students created proposals for increasing intergenerational communication about various health, safety, and technology-related topics in my Lifespan Communication seminar.
