

Health Communication Courses & Career Opportunities

Faculty: Drs. Pollock, Li, Patterson, Hu

Undergraduate

COM 292: Health Communication
COM 293: Messaging for Health Communication (BSCP*)
COM 330: Sexual Communication: Identities, Relationships, and Health
COM 335: Interpersonal Health Communication
COM 345: New Media & Health Communication
COM 394: Global Health & Risk Communication Campaigns
COM 415: International Communication (WVWK*)

Graduate

PBHG 530: Sexual Communication and Health
PBHG 535: Interpersonal Health Communication
PBHG 603: Health and Risk Communication Theory
PBHG 615: International Communication
PBHG 650: Health Education
PBHG 660: Global Health & Risk Communication Campaigns
PBHG 677: Disclosure, Stigma, Privacy, and Health

Career Opportunities

- Consultant
- Medical/Pharmaceutical/Public relations writer
- Youth and family advocate
- Community health educator
- Social worker
- Risk management evaluator
- Risk manager (e.g., for floods hurricanes, tornados, fires)
- Expert on provider-patient communication
- Manager of community healthy living campaigns
- Researcher on public health interventions
- Health policymaker
- Public health policy strategist
- And so much more!

* The College Core (liberal learning) designations. Note. Non-matriculated undergraduates may take two graduate courses for undergraduate credit. If enrolled in the 4+1 graduate program, students may take two additional graduate courses for undergraduate credit. Questions? Contact: Dr. John Pollock, Professor, Communication Studies and Public Health, pollock@tcnj.edu.